

Østgarðr Regalia Proposal:
Seastar Coronets

The Seastar Coronets

The Seastar Coronets are proposed regalia for the Viceregents of the Crown Province of Østgarðr. They are intended to serve as field coronets, sturdy and comfortable and appropriate for everyday use.

Design

The coronets are constructed from 8 ounce leather, which is approximately 1/8" thick, and are dyed a marine blue.

They are charged with six sea-stars, tooled and dyed or painted, reflecting the province's award for the daily service that makes events possible.

The six points each bear a 1/4" white pearl, mounted on a pin seated vertically in the thickness of the leather.

Headbands

The coronets have velcro hook fasteners on the inside to attach a removable headband. By selecting a headband with thinner or thicker padding, the fit can be adjusted to accommodate wearers with larger or smaller brows.

The Seahorse Coronets

It is expected that the province will eventually commission a second set of coronets intended for formal court use.

If desired, the formal coronets could mirror the design of these field coronets, with for the following differences:

- Constructed of metal, substantially thinner than 1/8", but with either a rolled edge or with a wire soldered along the edge, so that the edge is not sharp and so it looks more substantial.
- A shiny metal surface, such as silver plate or stainless steel.
- Sea-star charges are replaced with enameled blue sea-horses, reflecting the province's award for excellence.
- Pearls replaced with 1/2" lapis lazuli or similar stone cabochons.

Adaptations Welcome

The Province is welcome to adopt individual elements of this design, combine them with other proposals, or make any other revisions they see fit.
